

„Musicment“

L'AVANTGARDE:

One CD two bands. 10 concerts with Alphaville. SPR025 means anniversary and this calls for you to do something special. It is definitely not an easy job to find ways and possibilities of development for the up-and-coming talents so that we decided to release a so-called split-CD. The booklet shows both bands on it allowing the buyer to decide which of them he prefers to see on the cover. There are equal rights re the tracklisting. Apart from the fact that the bands have the same management another link is that they were the only two bands together on tour with Alphaville in 2002. Even though both have their roots in the 80's you will quickly notice the difference between the bands' style and approach to their music. The interesting thing is that this CD proves that Electro-Pop can be both progressive and refreshingly different.
